GOVERNOR WILLIS AND STATE AUDITOR IN DISPUTE OVER PAYROLLS

Columbus, Ohio, September 18.—All appointments of state employees made in "an apparently hostile mood" by Democratic heads of state departments, will not be approved by Governor Willis, according to a statement issued by the Governor today.

"It is utter folly for these department heads to declare that there can be no efficiency unless the present incumbents are retained in their positions," the Governor declared.

It is believed Governor Willis referred particularly to the state industrial commission's action yesterday, in reappointing provisionally sixty-two employees.

State Auditor Donahey has announced that he will not issue warrants for the salary of any employee, unless the appointment has been approved by the Governor.

TEUTONS PREPARING GREAT DRIVE UPON LITTLE SERBIA

Military Observers See Beginning of Offensive to Relieve Menaced Turkey.

NEVER PASHA QUOTED AS SAYING GREAT GERMAN ARMY IS ON WAY

Italy May Come in For Share of Hammering—Russ Lines Broken Through in North—Three Attacks Upon Serbians Hurled Back—Bulgaria to Remain Neutral for Present—French Capture Turk Position—Conscription in England Would be Fatal.

By Associated Press
London, September 18.—Reports that the Austrians and Germans have decided to initiate a new offensive campaign are multiplying, but there is little definite evidence of where it may be expected.

Several Rotterdam correspondents assert they believe the central powers have not only decided to strike a heavy blow, but have already put underway the preliminary military movements.

The object of the new campaign is generally believed to be either Serbia or Italy.

A report from Nish, Serbia, today, says the new Austrian movement against Serbia is increasing in extent.

The Serbian war office announced that three attempts to invade Serbia this week had been repulsed.

The city of Vilna is now virtually invested on three sides. The troops of Field Marshal von Mackensen have reached a point near Vileika, 37 miles southeast of the city.

The fall of Vilna would place in possession of the Germans a considerable section of the railroad to Petrogard, a portion of which, between Dvinsk and Vilna, they already hold.

The Turco-Bulgarian agreement, coupled with the announcement of Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria, that public opinion was opposed to any attack on Turkey, seems to have settled the attitude of the Bulgarians, a least as long as the Dardanelles remain closed to the entente powers.

London, September 18.—The executive committee of the Amalgamated Union of Railway Servants unanimously endorsed today the statement in the House of Commons Thursday by J. H. Thomas, that conscription would bring an industrial revolution and that railway employees would quit work.

Paris, September 18.—The capture of a Turkish position on the Gallipoli peninsula by French forces, was announced officially today.

GERMANY TO ANNEX ALL LANDS HELD

By Associated Press
Geneva, Switzerland, September 18.—The Lassanne Gazette says it has learned that the German government has decided to issue a declaration, annexing to the German Empire the occupied territories in France and Belgium.

The Gazette says this measure has been determined upon for the near future, because it now appears impossible that the war will be ended, as had been hoped, before winter.

According to this newspaper, the German government intends to organize the conquered territory, from a political and administrative standpoint, which is expected to strengthen Germany's moral position.

Civil administration has been slowly replacing military rule in the occupied regions, and this process will be extended methodically.

STEFANSSON LAND IS VERY LARGE BODY

By Associated Press

New York, September 18.—Satisfied by Vilhjalmur Stefansson's announcement that he is still alive and well on Banks Land, in the Arctic, explorers and geographers directed attention today to the new land he reports to have discovered.

Stefansson reported he saw about 100 miles of coast line, running in an easterly direction and apparently penetrating to a distance 20 miles inland where, from a hilltop, the explorer saw mountains 50 miles distant.

Cyrus C. Adams, president of the Association of American Geographers, declared the new land lies about 100 miles north of Prince Patrick Island.

BREAKS RECORD

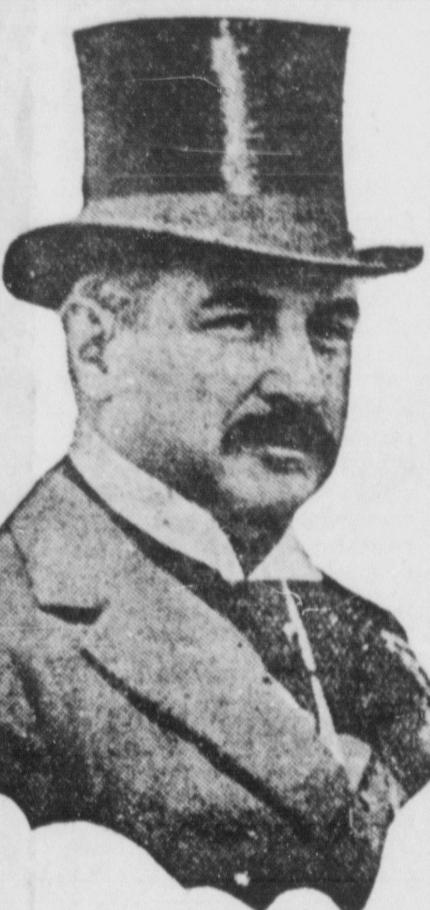

Providence, R. I., September 18.—Bob Burmen broke the world's record in the first of the auto events on the new speedway here today. He covered the mile in 45.73 seconds, .47 of a second faster than the record made by Louis Disbrow at St. Louis, in August, 1914.

Burman's record today was made on a one-mile circular concrete track, while Disbrow's record was on a circular dirt track.

FIRE WORK OF ENEMIES

London, September 18.—The captain of the Sant' Anna attributes the fire on his steamer definitely to work of enemy propagandists, according to a message received from the Azores.

He said the ship would have been blown to pieces if it had carried war munitions, as there were a number of small explosions aboard after the fire had been extinguished.

TOLEDO IS SHAKEN BY EXPLOSION

Toledo, September 18.—M. M. Markel was killed and much property was destroyed this morning, when two cars of gasoline exploded at the plant of the Hickok Producing Company, manufacturers of gasoline, in this city.

The explosion originated either in the storage houses, or in box cars loaded with barrels of gasoline.

J. P. Hagg, foreman, was buried under a mass of debris, but crawled out, seriously injured. The explosion was felt two miles away.

Night workers, still asleep, were thrown out of their beds two blocks distant, and thousands of panes of glass were shattered within a radius of several blocks.

Fire broke out in the ruins of the wrecked storage house, destroying it and a string of box cars. Several residences also were badly damaged by fire.

ASKS $25,000 OF UNIVERSITY

By Associated Press

Lafayette, Ind., September 18.—Purdue university was sued today for $25,000, by Abraham L. Obenchain, of South Whiteley, Ind., father of Francis W. Obenchain, aged 20, who was killed in the university "tank scrap" on the night of September 19, 1913.

The plaintiff alleges that the university, through its officers, "organized, conducted, tolerated and encouraged what was generally known as hazing, and what was called locally by the tank scrap."

MISCONDUCT IS CHARGED

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Five formal charges of misconduct in office and gross neglect of duty were filed with Governor Willis against Byron M. Clem Dening of Cincinnati, Democratic member of the state liquor licensing board.

At the same time similar charges were filed against a number of both Democratic and Republican county licensing commissioners by J. H. Secrest and Charles A. Reid, personal investigators for Governor Willis. The charges against Clem Dening were filed by W. B. Matthews, former chief of police of Delaware.

A copy of the charges was served on Mr. Clem Dening, together with a notice from the governor citing him to appear before the chief executive Oct. 20, to "show cause why you should not be removed from office for gross neglect of duty and misconduct in office."

The charges against county license commissioners were not made public.

TWO TOWNS ARE MENACED

the civil population left long ago. Probably a more determined effort will be made to hold Dvinsk, which, situated as it is on the broad and fast-flowing river Dvina, can offer strong resistance.

Along the rest of the eastern front there has been little change in the situation. The German center has made a further slight advance and must be nearing the railway east of Pinsk, possession of which would separate the northern and southern wings of the Russian armies operating on either side of the Pripet marshes. The Russians always have effected to disregard such a contingency, however, claiming the two armies are able to operate independently of each other and consequently continue their offensive from a point east of Kovel through Galicia to the Roumanian frontier.

The great effort to hold the present line in Galicia doubtless is dictated by near eastern politics, which grow more complicated as the days pass. Roumania alone appears to be definitely on the side of the quadruple entente. Greece apparently has decided to maintain her neutrality, for the time being at any rate.

Meanwhile the allied troops on the Gallipoli peninsula are taking a long rest, which is only occasionally disturbed by Turkish artillery.

In the west there has been only a repetition of artillery engagements with the novelty of a German grenade attack near Perthes, which the German report says gave them possession of a portion of a French trench.

The Circus Next Monday

It has been quite a long time—especially long for the youngsters—since a real, genuine, big circus and menagerie condescended to stop off, unfold their big tents and give Washington an exhibition.

The circus Monday comes well recommended as an exhibition worth while, an organization well managed and well controlled.

Presuming, as we must now, all the good things said about the circus to be true, Monday will be SOME day in Washington. A good circus and menagerie is good, is interesting to the exclusion of almost all work, from the time the first flaming posters are placed on the bill boards until the "concert" is concluded after the night performance.

There is something about the circus which always attracts both the young and the old. People never get "used" to a good circus. In the smaller communities, especially, the circus is the crowning entertainment event of the summer season.

The big tents, the side shows, the ticket sellers, the "speliers," the toy balloon men, the bands, the animals, the sawdust rings, the horses and the drivers and the men, from that awe canvas, the horses and the drivers and the men, from that awe inspiring august individual, the manager, on down to the exciting driver of tent stakes and the canvass men, all, everything, everybody, individually and collectively, form an attraction for all—a magnet the power of which to attract few any longer deny.

The circus will "positively" exhibit in Washington next Monday and if the weather man gives us a clear track everybody is going to the show if for no other purpose than "to take the children."

France Calls for Boys

News dispatches from Paris announce that President Poincaré will ask the French parliament to call to the colors the class of nineteen seventeen.

That means, if President Poincaré's request is granted, and it will be, in all probability, that four hundred thousand mere boys—lads from sixteen to eighteen years of age—will lay aside school work, leave the home and pass away from the affectionate guidance and refining influences of father, mother and sister and go into the trenches of the battle fields to become marauders under instructions to kill their fellow men whenever the occasion offers.

Could anything be more demoralizing to the rising generation than to take four hundred thousand boys of school age from the ways of peace and culture—just at the age they need attention and care most—and transform them into fighting men, train them into units of destructive force, themselves too the objects of attack.

That is war.

President Poincaré is not to be censured and parliament is not to be censured. France must have men to feed to the cannons of the enemy and France must have men to destroy the enemy. The government has called for men and yet more men and France has no more men to send and the boys must go to the front or France must surrender.

The same terrible condition is not confined to France. In Germany, Great Britain, Belgium and Austria the same stern order has gone forth. When there are not enough men to kill and to die as sacrifices to the demon of war the young boys and the old men must go forward at the command of the nation.

The nation must live, but the awful cost of it all!

Generations must come and go before the stricken peoples will be able to make any substantial progress in paying back the frightful debt to humanity they are now incurring.

No government is to blame for the sacrifice now being made, no people are to be held responsible for the frightful loss.

War—the wild passions of men returned to savagery for the time—exacts the awful toll.

Can we, in peaceful America, appreciate the sufferings and the heart aches of the mothers and the fathers of France, when four hundred thousand school lads march away to war and death and destruction? If the nations of Europe had realized the agony of the present time, in advance of its actual coming, perhaps there would have been no war.

It is well for those who indulge in jingo talk to consider the sorrow of France.

War means that men must kill and die and it means when the number of men proves insufficient that boys must take their places.

That is war.

Poetry For Today

ONLY A DOG.

Neath stately Balm of Gilead trees,
Soft aromatic shade,
Part of my heart lies buried
In a grave that's newly made.
A little grave, a humble grave—
To the busy world unknown—
Holds more than all the world has power

To give me back. My own!

My own—all mine. His loyal heart
Was mine, and mine alone;
His eyes with perfect fealty
And love forever shown.
Smile not to see the sad tears start,
Nor my poor grief deride;
Nor jeer about my aching heart
Because a dog has died.

Only a faithful dog—it's true!
But in his humble breast
He carried such devotion
As my life hath seldom blest.
Though human friends are left to me
Not one that loves me more
Is mine, to offer sympathy
For him I'm grieving o'er.

"Oh, no, madam," replied the landlady, "that would answer no purpose, as the undertaker's men in bringing down the coffin would break them again immediately."

FIGHT ON BORDER

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 18.—American cavalrymen had two fights with Mexicans across the Rio Grande, one here and one near Donna, about sixty miles up the river. In both clashes the American soldiers were fired upon and returned the fire without themselves suffering any casualties.

Ten American cavalrymen in the Donna fight, which lasted two hours and a half, reported they were fired upon by about 200 Mexicans and believed that they had hit seventeen Mexicans.

Twenty American cavalrymen fought in the outskirts of Brownsville for a half hour with Mexicans on the opposite bank of the river. After the fight one Carranza soldier was taken to Matamoros, probably fatally wounded, but Carranza officers denied emphatically that any of their men joined in the battle.

Fifty years ago last May the veterans of the Federal armies from Virginia and the Carolinas marched in grand review on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington. It was a memorable event and one which, in spite of its sublimity as a harbinger of peace, had its note of uncertainty and even anxiety. Militarism had been four years at the top. Would it subside in a twinkling? One of the statesmen of the period, who had filled the high office of attorney general, said early in the conflict, "If I could point out the officers who will be in saddle when the war is over I could also point out the usurpers who will crush the liberties of the people under the buttocks of their horses."

Nothing of the kind happened. The defeated in battle grounded arms to the victors, and the victors in turn grounded arms to peace. It was a people's war, and when it was over more than 2,000,000 armed people exchanged the weapons of war for the implements of peace with vastly greater alacrity than they had done the reverse in 1861. Pertinent to the repetition, and for the last time, of that grand review by the G. A. R. it is well to repeat what has often been said before—that the sudden and complete disbandment of the mighty armies of 1865 at the compelling call of home was the sublimest spectacle of its kind in history.

The Newfoundland seal fisheries failed this year because the fleet could not find the main herds. It is now proposed to employ two aviators to scour the coast and the Gulf of St. Lawrence in the spring, and to send word to St. John's as soon as they discover the whereabouts of the seals.—Exchange.

COLORED MAN INSTANTLY KILLED AT BLOOMINGBURG

Raymond Russell, 32, Struck by Royal Blue Flyer at Bloomingburg Early This Morning—Brains Scattered Over Platform When Body Is Horribly Mangled.

Caught on the tracks at the station in Bloomingburg at five o'clock this morning, Raymond Russell, aged 32, years, colored laborer of Bloomingburg, was instantly killed and his body mangled in a most shocking manner when B. & O. Royal Blue Flyer No. 105 struck him while traveling at 50 miles an hour.

As the train bore down upon him Russell seemed dazed and failed to arouse himself to the fate which threatened him, and in another instant the big engine had hurled itself upon him and life had fled. The body was carried down the track for some distance, leaving remnants scattered along the track the entire distance.

It is supposed he had gone down to the station to board the east bound

PIN REMOVED FROM SIDE OF LITTLE GIRL

Early in June Elsie Rumer, 15-year-old daughter of Dennis Rumer, residing on Sunnyside, swallowed an ordinary pin, and since that time she has suffered greatly with pain in her right side.

Friday an irritated spot appeared on her side and she discovered that the pin she had swallowed more than three months ago, had penetrated the walls of her stomach and worked its way to the surface. She endeavored to remove the blackened pin which had appeared head first and succeeded in removing it part way when she became very ill and a physician was summoned and extracted the pin.

The little girl is still suffering considerable pain but it is expected that she will soon be fully recovered from the most unpleasant and dangerous experience.

CANNING COMPANY COMPLETES PACKING

The Fayette Canning Company's plant finished packing the large crop of sweet corn, Friday noon, and the work of labeling and preparing for shipment is now well under way.

The pack this year was one-half times greater than last year, and the corn was of exceptionally good quality. A large number of laborers who were employed in the plant are now free for other work.

MRS. BERT IRONS STRICKEN FRIDAY

Mrs. J. A. Irons, residing south of this city, is in the Fayette Hospital suffering from an attack of paralysis with which she was seized late Friday afternoon while shopping in the Craig Bros. store.

Mrs. Irons fell unconscious while in the store, and it was first believed that she had fainted. However, when she did not rally after the usual treatment, a physician was train, had stepped upon the track, became confused as the train bore down upon him, and could not act with promptness and save himself.

Undertaker Clever went to the scene and brought the remains back to this city in his ambulance. Pieces of the remains were picked up at numerous places along the track.

Coroner C. A. Teeters was summoned and found that the man had come to his death by being struck by the train. No blame was attached to the train officials.

The man's head was crushed and his brains scattered over the platform and station at Bloomingburg. His right arm was completely severed below the elbow. The fingers of his left hand were crushed. Both legs from the knee down were crushed and severed in a number of places, and the right thigh was ripped wide open, exposing the muscles. Hardly a sound bone remained in his body.

Russell moved to Bloomingburg from Ross county some two years ago, it is claimed, and lived with his brother, William Russell and a sister.

Interment will be made in the Bloomingburg cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Summoned and he immediately pronounced her affliction paralysis, and she was removed to the hospital.

She remained in an unconscious state for several hours, and Saturday morning was very much improved, although she had not regained full use of her limbs.

Mrs. Irons is well known in the city and county and has many close friends who hope for a speedy recovery.

DIES AT AGE OF NINETY-SEVEN

The death of Mrs. Parthenia Rankin, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hannah Cremer, near Jeffersonville, Saturday morning, deprives Fayette county of one of her oldest residents, a woman prominently identified with pioneer conditions and belonging to one of the early families which were connected in formative days.

Mrs. Rankin would have celebrated her ninety-seventh birthday in three days and up to the last few years had retained remarkable health and the use of her faculties. She was the widow of Smith Rankin and the daughter of Jacob Wood.

Mrs. Rankin is survived by four children, Mrs. Hannah Cremer, with whom she made her home; Mrs. Rachel Allen, of Milledgeville; Hon. Reuben Rankin, of Parrott's Station and Mrs. J. H. Allen of this city.

LAD IS BETTER AND MAY RECOVER

Chester Beedy, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Beedy, of Paint township, who suffered a fractured skull which permitted a small quantity of the brain matter to ooze out, is now believed to be on the road to recovery, having shown marked improvement during the past few days.

He is able to be about the house and to eat, and his full mental faculties are nearly restored.

A blow from a horseshoe thrown by a brother, caused the serious injury.

India's Few Schoolgirls.
The number of girls under instruction in British India is only the equivalent of 3,910 for every million of the population, says a writer in "The London Times." The enormous disparity of 1 to 5 in the number of girls and boys under instruction in British India constitutes a grave danger to the social welfare of the Indian communities.

ROY BASIC HELD TO GRAND JURY

Roy Basic was in the court of J. N. Waldo, mayor of Mt. Sterling, Wednesday, charged in an affidavit filed by Scott Truitt, of the firm of Truitt & Truitt, grocers at Cheno-weth, with having stolen $45 from the Truitt residence last Sunday night. After the hearing the defendant was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, and was brought to London by Constable Landis Hill and turned over to the care of Sheriff Weimer. The accused is said to have gone to Columbus immediately following the theft and was picked up by the police of that city.—London Democrat.

Young Basic is a former resident of this city, but was discharged by his employer a few months ago.

One sharp clash of opinion at the conference of governors furnishes food for thought. When the governors of Virginia, Oklahoma and Idaho urged an extension of the power of governors Colorado's former governor, Adams, took exception. He said that to strengthen the governor's power of initiative would be contrary to our ideas of democracy. Wisconsin's former governor, McGovern, thought that the people themselves were demanding increased powers for state executives. Reduced to its lowest terms the question seems to be whether the people will take the trouble to rule or prefer to shift all responsibility and power on other shoulders. The idea of a strong government was born in the civil war crisis, and the idea of paternalism has been growing ever since. Commission government has replaced in many quarters the representative bodies close to the people. Pure democracy is self rule, and the voters individually must share the burden of responsibility, drudgery, defeat and even contumely involved for the men at the front. Efficient government has its price. Either the governed must delegate large powers to a strong arm or with infinite patience and painstaking be the strong arm themselves. To cast a clean ballot for the "best man" at election time is good; to back up the vote by continuous effort for efficiency is still better.

Many plans have been tried the last few years to bring down the cost of living in cities by getting the consumer and producer of fruit and vegetables into closer touch. Quick and cheap transportation is part of the problem, but not the whole of it. The parcel post was expected to achieve wonders in reducing the cost of living, but seems to have failed except in isolated cases. It ultimately comes back to the old story, heard even before railroads were thought of, food rots where it is grown and people in town with money in hand go without. The middleman has been accused of taking too heavy toll for his service of foresight, risk and trouble. But every step of the way from farm to table involves time of the very kind which is money. The high cost begins after the farmer has received his pay, and the bulk of it arises from the fact that the stuff wanted is perishable and the consumer must share the loss—in fact insure the distributor against loss which may not occur.

The federal commission on industrial relations has demonstrated the value of the scheme by agreeing upon fundamentals. Time will work out a substantial result. It is agreed that trade unions and employers' associations are useful, that abuses exist on both sides and that the disputes between labor and capital should be settled by reason, not by force. Surely a good beginning.

Even dictionaries do not agree when it comes to putting a fine point on a definition, but it will be interesting to have the new international dictionary tell all about what neutrality is.

In Social Circles

Notably one of the brilliant society events of the autumn season was the "Auction Bridge," with which Mrs. Robert C. Peddicord and Mrs. Rinaldo M. Hughey entertained at the L. O. O. F. Hall Friday afternoon.

There were three charming hostess:

Mrs. Peddicord's young daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clifford Peddicord, who is most cordially welcomed back to Washington and especially by the younger set with whom she was associated as Ruth Hughey, in her High school days; Mrs. William W. Westerfield, of New Orleans, La.; and Mrs. Michael S. Creamer of Los Angeles, Cal., who are always stimulating acquisitions to social circles and have never ceased to be missed from those of their home town. Also with the receiving line was Mrs. Westerfield's lovely little daughter Elizabeth, who presented the tally cards.

It was an exceptionally pretty party. The large hall suggested a conservatory in its wealth of bloom, the flowers of early fall filling jardines and vases in artistic arrangement, their note of vivid color supplemented by magnificent ferns. There were also many charming costumes in evidence, those of the early autumn season in effective contrast with light summer toilettes.

A hundred matrons and buds were at play in the Bridge game while others not caring to play, enjoyed Grafonola music and visiting.

Mrs. James Ford won a beautiful corsage bouquet of white roses as the trophy of the game and similar bouquets of Kilarney roses were presented by the hostesses to the honor guests.

The delicious collation served was characterized by dainty appointments; the favors, pink fall roses.

A coterie of attractive young girls assisted in the hospitalities: Misses Jean Howat, Helen Harper, Marie Janum, Edna Fenner, Lillian Davis, Elizabeth Westerfield and Dorothy Smith of Bainbridge.

Among the guests were Mrs. W. J. Galvin of Jamestown; Mrs. J. Star Smith and daughter Miss Dorothy, of Bainbridge, and Miss Anna Louise Ustick of Cincinnati.

Miss Alice Parrett delightfully entertained the "Seven Brothers and Seven Sisters" club Friday evening in honor of Malcolm Ross, who leaves next week for his new home in Ironton.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in baskets and bowls of asters and heliotrope and a pink and white color scheme was prettily employed in the tempting luncheon served.

Eighteen girls and boys spent a merry evening, Tom Rogers winning the prize in a guessing contest.

The bright young hostess was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Parrett, and Mrs. James Flynn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drais and daughter Miss Emma entertained with an elaborate family dinner at their home east of town, in honor of two nephews, Willard Bitzer and Roy Baughn, who leave Tuesday for Columbus to enter the Ohio State University.

Young Bitzer takes the law course and young Baughn the agricultural course.

Mrs. James Sumers pleasantly entertained with a Kensington Friday afternoon. A profusion of asters, marigolds and hydrangeas were in graceful arrangement throughout the rooms, their beauty enjoyed by the guests, as they visited over their fancy work. A dainty refreshment was served.

Among the guests were Miss Pauline Foster of Waverly, Mrs. Edith Nessell of Bainbridge and Mrs. Alice Loofborow.

Mrs. R. R. Kibler gave a pleasurable little "Baked Bean" supper Friday evening, in compliment to Mrs. Fred Sprenger, of Marion, Ill., and Mrs. Earl Barr of Isola, Miss.

The table, with center basket of harmoniously shading asters, was laid with eight covers, the additional guests, Mesdames Frank S. Jackson, Arthur Leland, W. M. Mitchell, M. E. Hitchcock and Fred D. Woollard.

Proceeds Can Be Used Only For Purchase of Normal Exports and For Maintenance of Foreign Exchange at Par—American Financiers Place Themselves in Class With the Patriots of the Nation.

New York, Sept. 18.—Conferences between the members of the Anglo-French mission and American financiers over the foreign exchange situation have progressed so satisfactorily that the essential arrangements for a British loan in the United States practically have been completed. Fundamental principles have been agreed upon and only minor differences remain to be settled. The fundamentals already agreed upon between the parties, which means the six members of the mission and practically every banking interest of the United States, are these:

The bankers of the United States will float a joint British-French loan on the joint and several bonds of the two nations. The bonds are to return 5 per cent to the investor, to run for a period of between five and ten years. They are to be payable in New York in American dollars, 100 cents on the dollar. They are to be free from all income and other taxes, and no exterior loans have priority over all domestic loans of both countries and are to have no other security than the credit of the great nations, neither of which has ever repudiated a debt nor defaulted in interest except in the case of France, which at the close of the reign of Louis XVI was financially insolvent. The points remaining to be settled are the amount of the loan, which is not so serious as it might seem, the exact method of placing the bonds upon the market, the payment of the expenses of handling the enormous transaction and the distribution of the proceeds in the United States.

It was freely asserted in Wall street that it has been decided that the bonds will be handled by a subscription syndicate rather than an underwriting syndicate, and that the bankers of the United States are not demanding a commission, which would be a huge sum, even at a fraction per cent, for their labors. They are showing a disposition to consider their work as a patriotic duty in order that the producers of the country may benefit by a great market for their surplus merchandise of all kinds.

There was talk that the price at which the syndicate would take the bonds would cost the two countries 5½ per cent. This was promptly denied by friends of the mission.

The difference as to the amount of the negotiations hangs the question whether any part of the loan shall be expended for munitions of war in the United States. If it were agreed that instead of the gold they are paying now they might devote part of the bond proceeds for this purpose, the billion dollars originally asked for would not be too much and would not last them a year. If the proceeds are to be used for paying for normal exports and for maintaining foreign exchange at par they can do on less.

There is no doubt that the mission to its first meetings with the Americans asked for the full sum, which was to be used for all purposes. There is no doubt also that they came very quickly to understand that in order to popularize the transaction and prevent any formidable objections, munitions must be excluded. Thereafter the negotiations, according to Wall street understanding, went on the familiar plans of "what will you give and what is the lowest you will take."

WILL PROTECT HOLY PLACES

Rome, Sept. 18.—The pope has obtained assurances from the British and French governments that they will guarantee the safety of the holy places in Palestine in the eventuality of an Anglo-French occupation of neighboring Turkish territory. Simultaneously the Austrian and German governments have notified the pope that their protection of the Holy Land will be continued throughout the war.

H. M. DAUGHERTY

Columbus Attorney Seeks Republican Senatorial Nomination.

DAUGHERTY IS OUT FOR U. S. SENATOR

Republican Admits Desire to Sojourn In Washington.

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Harry M. Daugherty has entered the lists for the Republican senatorial nomination, the announcement coming from Mr. Daugherty himself in the following statement:

"Having thoroughly considered the question and carefully and systematically canvassed the situation throughout the state for two months, I can now positively say that when the time comes I will enter the canvas for the nomination for United States senator, and from that time until the election make a consistent effort in keeping with the dignity of that high office."

"For twenty-five years I have given the best service there was in me to the Republican party, as a matter of political patriotism and loyalty to its principles. I have been glad to support every Republican who has been a candidate during that time. I now feel that if I am considered qualified to represent the people of the state of Ohio in the highest legislative body in the world, I have at least earned the privilege of being a candidate and I shall cheerfully submit my candidacy to the judgment of the Republican voters of the state at the primaries at which the nomination is made.

"I will enter no combination and will not participate in any slate-making. I will not interfere with the campaign of any man for any other office, unless an attempt should be made to interfere with me. I do not know who the other candidates may be. They will be, no doubt, worthy men, and I trust the contest between us will be a dignified one and in no sense a personal one. I will fully appreciate all the support that may be given me."

The announcement by Mr. Daugherty of his candidacy for United States Senator is of particular interest locally. Mr. Daugherty was born and raised in this city, his mother, Mrs. Jane Daugherty, and his brother, M. S. Daugherty, cashier of The Midland National Bank, one of Washington's prominent men of affairs, live here.

While Mr. Daugherty has resided in Columbus for a number of years past, engaged in the practice of his profession, he still regards Washington as "home." His loyalty to and affection for the place of his birth, the place where he passed his boyhood days, attended school, grew to manhood and entered upon the practice of his profession in which he was destined to attain such prominence, has always remained unshaken. Mr. Daugherty has hosts of personal friends in Washington and Fayette county in all political parties, who have always been interested in his success and who will assist him in his canvass because, if for no other reason, they are anxious to have "Harry" win out.

Mr. Daugherty is the first Fayette county man who ever aspired to such high honors in the political world.

KING GEORGE MAGNANIMOUS

London, Sept. 18.—At a big dinner held at Windsor castle, at which Sir Arthur Nicholson, permanent under-secretary of the foreign office; Lord Revelstoke and a number of American women, including the Countess of Granard and the Duchess of Rosburg, were present, King George proposed the health of President Wilson. In the course of a short speech the king said:

"It will, I think, be an everlasting testimony to the wisdom and go-sense of the American people that most trying and difficult circumstances well nigh impossible to conceive, they stood loyally united behind President Wilson. Mr. Wilson's action throughout the period of difficulty has justified the faith and confidence of the American people."

This is the first occasion on which the health of the president of the United States has been proposed at the English royal table by the sovereign.

FUSES IN CARGO

Washington, Sept. 18.—In announcing to the state department the arrival at the Azores of the Fabre liner Sant' Anna, from New York for Italy, American Consul Schultz stated that eighteen fuses had been found on the ship and that many explosions had occurred before she reached the Azores, with a serious fire in her hold.

TO THE POINT

Lying on the lawn at his home in Lisbon, O., Frank Whittacre, sixty-five, blacksmith, fired a bullet into his train, dying instantly.

Albert Gillette and two young children living near Portland, Ind., were fatally burned when gasoline, being used to clean a bed, exploded and set fire to their clothing.

Mr. Bryan let it be known also that he will work to mobilize public sentiment against any program for increasing the national defense. This will be in opposition to the president, who is now holding daily conferences with army and navy officials looking to a program of national preparedness to be submitted to congress.

Washington, Sept. 18.—William J.

Bryan intimated very strongly that he has in contemplation a number of important moves which are not in harmony with the policies of President

Wilson as they are generally understood. He has under consideration a the peace treaties negotiated by Mr.

Bryan as secretary of state on behalf of the United States, which would ob-

RUSTY NAIL ENDS LIFE OF PROMINENT CITIZEN

Mr. W. S. Glaze, more familiarly known as "Squire" Glaze, aged 70 years, for years one of Jeffersonville's most prominent citizens, died at his home in that town Friday evening about 7:30, death being the result of a rusty nail penetrating his foot some two weeks ago and the wound developing blood poisoning.

Mr. Glaze has been almost a lifelong resident of Fayette county, and for many years has lived in Jeffersonville. For several years he was justice of the peace and the title of "Squire" had since remained with him. He was a veteran of the civil war.

Some two weeks ago, while breaking some boards, a rusty nail penetrated one foot. He gave the wound tigers, leopards, polar bears and other wild beasts broken to perform marvelous feats.

During the engagement, which is for a single day, performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors will be opened an hour earlier. The parade is at 10 o'clock in the morning.

BARN BURNS AND HOME IS THREATENED

The large barn of Oliver Baughn, on the Jamestown pike, was struck by lightning, Saturday afternoon, and burned to the ground.

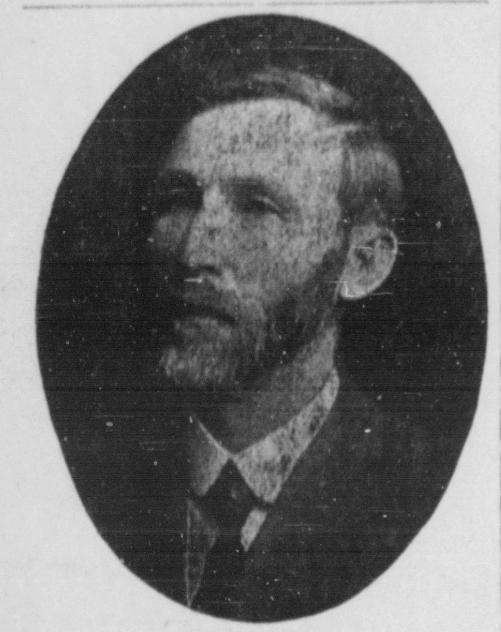

Some 400 bushels of wheat, some corn, a large quantity of hay and straw and harness burned with the barn.

At press time the flames were being carried toward the residence, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes, and grave fears were entertained for the building.

Mrs. Barnes was knocked down by the bolt of lightning and suffered a severe nervous shock.

During his two years in office Mr. Perrill has proven equal to any situation arising and it was because of his good record and genial disposition which carried him back into office for another two years.

Mr. Perrill will, in all probability, be chosen president of the new Board of County Commissioners. He has lived on a farm all his life but by study and experience has peculiar ability for successfully conducting the affairs of the office he holds.

such treatment as generally used about a home, and the wound apparently responded to the treatment; however, last Saturday the wound became inflamed and Tuesday when a physician was called he found a well developed case of blood poisoning. Since that time his condition had gradually grown more serious until the end came Friday evening.

The deceased leaves two sons, Ray V., who arrived from Charleston, W. Va., Friday morning, and O. J. Glaze who is in the coal business in Jeffersonville. The deceased leaves a number of relatives in this city.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at ten o'clock, and interment will be made in the Fairview cemetery near Jeffersonville.

BIG DAY NEAR

Everything Ready for Coming of Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus.

It's the circus that's the question of the hour in Washington C. H. at least for the small boys of six as well as for those of sixty. The billboards barns and dead walls are announcing with all the fluency of pictorial art the coming of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus to Washington C. H. next Monday.

And already preparations are being made for the one big holiday event of the year, acknowledged to be better than Christmas and the Fourth of July put together, circus day with its manifold promises. About the time the milk man is making his rounds on the morning of September 19th the first of the three long trains of yellow cars will be coming slowly pulling into the railroad yards.

Much is promised by the management of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus this season. The show has reached such a size that it is causing the railroads considerable uneasiness to handle the trains, and, in short, if they were any longer it would be impossible. European agents have sacked the old world in a quest for novelties. The question of salary was not considered for the particular novelty and dangerous acts.

There are 400 performers who take part in the big show program. Every artist was selected because of some special merit. New acts and faces will tend to eradicate the fallacy that "all circuses are alike." Foremost among the features is Herr von Ritter, who slides on his head down a long silver wire from the topmost pinnacle in the arena; the Marvelous Eugen troupe of twelve male acrobats from the Royal Circus, Amsterdam, Holland; the Cottrell-Powell Trio of riders from the London Hippodrome; La Rose Marguerite, the society equestrienne, with her tango horses; the Sisters La Tow debutante wire artists, and almost 200 other features. The Carl Hagenbeck trained wild animals form a big feature of the show. In an immense steel arena will be seen lions,

Indianapolis, September 18.—Ernest Roeder, who recently pleaded guilty to the election conspiracy indictment on which Mayor Bell is being tried, told of his activities on election days at today's session of the court.

He said that on election day he bought a number of votes with the money given him by "Bud" Gibson.

"I tried to buy votes for $1 but sometimes had to pay $2," he said.

GERMANY WILL GIVE ATTENTION TO ALL THE FACTS

Berlin, September 18.—The German government will give its careful consideration to the evidence concerning circumstances which attended the sinking of the Arabic, submitted by the American government through Ambassador Gerard.

Foreign Minister von Jagow made a statement to this effect, in an interview last night with the Associated Press.

The Foreign Minister expressed complete confidence that, in view of the instructions which had been given and the precautions now being taken, the possibility of further incidents in connection with the submarine campaign, which would disturb the relations between the two countries, has been virtually eliminated.

In this manner every youngster in town can have an opportunity to enjoy to the utmost the wonders of the big circus.

The public schools will be dismissed in time Monday morning for the pupils to witness the big parade and no school will be held in the afternoon, in order that all may have an opportunity to attend the show.

In this manner every youngster in town can have an opportunity to enjoy to the utmost the wonders of the big circus.

The meeting will be held at Grace church at 7:30 and Dr. Darling will speak on State Sunday School work.

The meeting will be in the nature of a general rally of the large number of schools in the county.

GOVERNOR WILLIS AND STATE AUDITOR IN DISPUTE OVER PAYROLLS

Columbus, Ohio, September 18.—All appointments of state employees made in "an apparently hostile mood" by Democratic heads of state departments, will not be approved by Governor Willis, according to a statement issued by the Governor today.

"It is utter folly for these department heads to declare that there can be no efficiency unless the present incumbents are retained in their positions," the Governor declared.

It is believed Governor Willis referred particularly to the state industrial commission's action yesterday, in reappointing provisionally sixty-two employees.

State Auditor Donahey has announced that he will not issue warrants for the salary of any employee, unless the appointment has been approved by the Governor.

TEUTONS PREPARING GREAT DRIVE UPON LITTLE SERBIA

Military Observers See Beginning of Offensive to Relieve Menaced Turkey.

EVERY PASHA QUOTED AS SAYING GREAT GERMAN ARMY IS ON WAY

Italy May Come in For Share of Hammering—Russia Lines Broken Through in North—Three Attacks Upon Serbians Hurled Back—Bulgaria to Remain Neutral for Present—French Capture Turk Position—Conscription in England Would be Fatal.

By Associated Press
London, September 18.—Reports that the Austrians and Germans have decided to initiate a new offensive campaign are multiplying, but there is little definite evidence of where it may be expected.

Several Rotterdam correspondents assert they believe the central powers have not only decided to strike a heavy blow, but have already put under way the preliminary military movements.

The object of the new campaign is generally believed to be either Serbia or Italy.

A report from Nish, Serbia, today, says the new Austrian movement against Serbia is increasing in extent.

The Serbian war office announced that three attempts to invade Serbia this week had been repulsed.

The city of Vilna is now virtually invested on three sides. The troops of Field Marshal von Mackensen have reached a point near Vileika, 37 miles southeast of the city.

The fall of Vilna would place in possession of the Germans a considerable section of the railroad to Petrogard, a portion of which, between Dvinsk and Vilna, they already hold.

The Turco-Bulgarian agreement, coupled with the announcement of Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria, that public opinion was opposed to any attack on Turkey, seems to have settled the attitude of the Bulgarians, at least as long as the Dardanelles remain closed to the entente powers.

London, September 18.—The executive committee of the Amalgamated Union of Railway Servants unanimously endorsed today the statement in the House of Commons Thursday by J. H. Thomas, that conscription would bring an industrial revolution and that railway employees would quit work.

Paris, September 18.—The capture of a Turkish position on the Gallipoli peninsula by French forces, was announced officially today.

Berlin, September 18.—A message from Constantinople quotes Enver Pasha, Turkish minister of war, as saying that a great German army was to go to Turkey.

Berlin, September 18.—Russian advanced positions have been taken, in an attack on the Dvinsk bridgehead, and the Russian front has been broken through, to the south at several points, between Vilna and the Niemen river, it was officially announced today.

Germany to Annex All Lands Held

By Associated Press
Geneva, Switzerland, September 18.—The Lassanne Gazette says it has learned that the German government has decided to issue a declaration, annexing to the German Empire the occupied territories in France and Belgium.

The Gazette says this measure has been determined upon for the near future, because it now appears impossible that the war will be ended, as had been hoped, before winter.

According to this newspaper, the German government intends to organize the conquered territory, from a political and administrative standpoint, which is expected to strengthen Germany's moral position.

Civil administration has been slowly replacing military rule in the occupied regions, and this process will be extended methodically.

STEFANSSON LAND IS VERY LARGE BODY

By Associated Press

New York, September 18.—Satisfied by Vilhjalmur Stefansson's announcement that he is still alive and well on Banks Land, in the Arctic, explorers and geographers directed attention today to the new land he reports to have discovered.

Stefansson reported he saw about 100 miles of coast line, running in an easterly direction and apparently penetrating to a distance 20 miles inland where, from a hilltop, the explorer saw mountains 50 miles distant.

Cyrus C. Adams, president of the Association of American Geographers, declared the new land lies about 100 miles north of Prince Patrick Island.

BREAKS RECORD

Providence, R. I., September 18.—Bob Burman broke the world's record in the first of the auto events on the new speedway here today. He covered the mile in 45.73 seconds, .47 of a second faster than the record made by Louis Disbrow at St. Louis, in August, 1914.

Burman's record today was made on a one-mile circular concrete track, while Disbrow's record was on a circular dirt track.

FIRE WORK OF ENEMIES

London, September 18.—The captain of the Sant' Anna attributes the fire on his steamer definitely to work of enemy propagandists, according to a message received from the Azores.

He said the ship would have been blown to pieces if it had carried war munitions, as there were a number of small explosions aboard after the fire had been extinguished.

TOLEDO IS SHAKEN BY EXPLOSION

Toledo, September 18.—M. M. Markel was killed and much property was destroyed this morning, when two cars of gasoline exploded at the plant of the Hickok Producing Company, manufacturers of gasoline, in this city.

The explosion originated either in the storage houses, or in box cars loaded with barrels of gasoline.

J. P. Hagg, foreman, was buried under a mass of debris, but crawled out, seriously injured. The explosion was felt two miles away.

Night workers, still asleep, were thrown out of their beds two blocks distant, and thousands of panes of glass were shattered within a radius of several blocks.

Fire broke out in the ruins of the wrecked storage house, destroying it and a string of box cars. Several residences also were badly damaged by fire.

The Circus Next Monday

It has been quite a long time—especially long for the youngsters—since a real, genuine, big circus and menagerie descended to stop off, unfold their big tents and give Washington an exhibition.

The circus Monday comes well recommended as an exhibition worth while, an organization well managed and well controlled.

Presuming, as we must now, all the good things said about the circus to be true, Monday will be SOME day in Washington. A good circus and menagerie is good, is interesting to the exclusion of almost all work, from the time the first flaming posters are placed on the bill boards until the "concert" is concluded after the night performance.

There is something about the circus which always attracts both the young and the old. People never get "used" to a good circus. In the smaller communities, especially, the circus is the crowning entertainment event of the summer season.

The big tents, the side shows, the ticket sellers, the "speilers," the toy balloon men, the bands, the animals, the sawdust rings, the "death defying leaps" from the top of the canvas, the horses and the drivers and the men, from that awe inspiring august individual, the manager, on down to the expert driver of tent stakes and the canvass men, all, everything, everybody, individually and collectively, form an attraction for all—a magnet the power of which to attract few any longer deny.

The circus will "positively" exhibit in Washington next Monday and if the weather man gives us a clear track everybody is going to the show if for no other purpose than "to take the children."

France Calls for Boys

News dispatches from Paris announce that President Poincaré will ask the French parliament to call to the colors the class of nineteen seventeen.

That means, if President Poincaré's request is granted, and it will be, in all probability, that four hundred thousand mere boys—lads from sixteen to eighteen years of age—will lay aside school work, leave the home and pass away from the affectionate guidance and refining influences of father, mother and sister and go into the trenches of the battle fields to become marauders under instructions to kill their fellow men whenever the occasion offers.

Could anything be more demoralizing to the rising generation than to take four hundred thousand boys of school age from the ways of peace and culture—just at the age they need attention and care most—and transform them into fighting men, train them into units of destructive force, themselves too the objects of attack.

That is war.

President Poincaré is not to be censured and parliament is not to be censured. France must have men to feed to the cannons of the enemy and France must have men to destroy the enemy. The government has called for men and yet more men and France has no more men to send and the boys must go to the front or France must surrender.

The same terrible condition is not confined to France. In Germany, Great Britain, Belgium and Austria the same stern order has gone forth. When there are not enough men to kill and to die as sacrifices to the demon of war the young boys and the old men must go forward at the command of the nation.

The nation must live, but the awful cost of it all!

Generations must come and go before the stricken peoples will be able to make any substantial progress in paying back the frightful debt to humanity they are now incurring.

No government is to blame for the sacrifice now being made, no people are to be held responsible for the frightful loss.

War—the wild passions of men returned to savagery for the time—exacts the awful toll.

Can we, in peaceful America, appreciate the sufferings and the heart aches of the mothers and the fathers of France, when four hundred thousand school lads march away to war and death and destruction? If the nations of Europe had realized the agony of the present time, in advance of its actual coming, perhaps there would have been no war.

It is well for those who indulge in jingo talk to consider the sorrow of France.

War means that men must kill and die and it means when the number of men proves insufficient that boys must take their places.

That is war.

Poetry For Today

ONLY A DOG.

'Neath stately Balm of Gilead trees,
Soft aromatic shade,
Part of my heart lies buried
In a grave that's newly made.
A little grave, a humble grave—
To the busy world unknown—
Holds more than all the world has
power
To give me back. My own!

My own—all mine. His loyal heart
Was mine, and mine alone;
His eyes with perfect fealty
And love forever shown.
Smile not to see the sad tears start,
Nor my poor grief deride;
Nor jeer about my aching heart
Because a dog has died.

Only a faithful dog—it's true!
But in his humble breast
He carried such devotion
As my life hath seldom bled.
Though human friends are left to me
Not one that loves me more
Is mine, to offer sympathy
For him I'm grieving o'er.

A lady advanced in age and in a declining state of health went, by the advice of the physician, to take lodgings in a village near the metropolis. She agreed for a suit of rooms and, coming downstairs, observed that the balustrades were much out of repair.

"These," said the lady, "must be mended before I can think of coming to live here."

"Oh, no, madam," replied the landlady, "that would answer no purpose, as the undertaker's men in bringing down the coffin would break them again immediately."

"Much in little" can be applied to some of the nations deaf to the call from the war zone. "Come on in, feliers!" Much horse sense in little Jack etc.

The body was carried down the track for some distance, leaving remnants scattered along the track the entire distance.

It is supposed he had gone down to the station to board the east bound

PIN REMOVED FROM SIDE OF LITTLE GIRL

Early in June Elsie Rumer, 15-year-old daughter of Dennis Rumer, residing on Sunnyside, swallowed an ordinary pin, and since that time she has suffered greatly with a pain in her right side.

Friday an irritated spot appeared on her side and she discovered that the pin she had swallowed more than three months ago, had penetrated the walls of her stomach and worked its way to the surface. She endeavored to remove the blackened pin which had appeared head first and succeeded in removing it part way when she became very ill and a physician was summoned and extracted the pin.

The little girl is still suffering considerable pain but it is expected that she will soon be fully recovered from the most unpleasant and dangerous experience.

CANNING COMPANY COMPLETES PACKING

The Fayette Canning Company's plant finished packing the large crop of sweet corn, Friday last, and the work of labeling and preparing for shipment is now well under way.

Mrs. J. A. Irons, residing south of this city, is in the Fayette Hospital suffering from an attack of paralysis with which she was seized late Friday afternoon while shopping in the Craig Bros.' store.

Mrs. Irons fell unconscious while in the store, and it was first believed that she had fainted. However, when she did not rally after the usual treatment, a physician was called.

summoned and he immediately pronounced her affliction paralysis, and she was removed to the hospital.

She remained in an unconscious state for several hours, and Saturday morning was very much improved, although she had not regained full use of her limbs.

Mrs. Irons is well known in the city and county and has many close friends who hope for a speedy recovery.

DIES AT AGE OF NINETY-SEVEN

The death of Mrs. Parthenia Rankin, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hannah Creamer, near Jeffersonville, Saturday morning, deprives Fayette county of one of her oldest residents, a woman prominently identified with pioneer conditions and belonging to one of the early families which were connected in formative days.

Mrs. Rankin would have celebrated her ninety-seventh birthday in three days and up to the last few years had retained remarkable health and the use of her faculties. She was the widow of Smith Rankin and the daughter of Jacob Wood.

Mrs. Rankin is survived by four children, Mrs. Hannah Creamer, with whom she made her home; Mrs. Rachel Allen, of Milledgeville; Hon. Reuben Rankin, of Parrott's Station and Mrs. J. H. Allen of this city.

LAD IS BETTER AND MAY RECOVER

Chester Beedy, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Beedy, of Paint township, who suffered a fractured skull which permitted a small quantity of the brain matter to ooze out, is now believed to be on the road to recovery, having shown marked improvement during the past few days.

ROY BASIC HELD TO GRAND JURY

Roy Basic was in the court of J. N. Waldo, mayor of Mt. Sterling, Wednesday, charged in an affidavit filed by Scott Truitt, of the firm of Truitt & Truitt, grocers at Cheno-weth, with having stolen $45 from the Truitt residence last Sunday night. After the hearing the defendant was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, and was brought to London by Constable Landis Hill and turned over to the care of Sheriff Weimer. The accused is said to have gone to Columbus immediately following the theft and was picked up by the police of that city.—London Democrat.

Young Basic is a former resident of this city, but was discharged by his employer a few months ago.

One sharp clash of opinion at the conference of governors furnishes food for thought. When the governors of Virginia, Oklahoma and Idaho urged an extension of the power of governors Colorado's former governor, Adams, took exception. He said that to strengthen the governor's power of initiative would be contrary to our ideas of democracy. Wisconsin's former governor, McGovern, thought that the people themselves were demanding increased powers for state executives. Reduced to its lowest terms the question seems to be whether the people will take the trouble to rule or prefer to shift all responsibility and power on other shoulders. The idea of a strong government was born in the civil war crisis, and the idea of paternalism has been growing ever since. Commission government has replaced in many quarters the representative bodies close to the people. Pure democracy is self rule, and the voters individually must share the burden of responsibility, drudgery, defeat and even contumely involved for the men at the front. Efficient government has its price. Either the governed must delegate large powers to a strong arm or with infinite patience and painstaking be the strong arm themselves. To cast a clean ballot for the "best man" at election time is good; to back up the vote by continuous effort for efficiency is still better.

The federal commission on industrial relations has demonstrated the value of the scheme by agreeing upon fundamentals. Time will work out a substantial result. It is agreed that trade unions and employers' associations are useful, that abuses exist on both sides and that the disputes between labor and capital should be settled by reason, not by force. Surely a good beginning.

Even dictionaries do not agree when it comes to putting a fine point on a definition, but it will be interesting to have the new international dictionary tell all about what neutrality is.

In Social Circles

Notably one of the brilliant social events of the autumn season was the "Auction Bridge," with which Mrs. Robert C. Peddicord and Mrs. Rinaldo M. Hughey entertained at the L. O. O. F. Hall Friday afternoon. There were three charming honor guests: Mrs. Peddicord's young daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clifford Peddicord, who is most cordially welcomed back to Washington and especially by the younger set with whom she was associated as Ruth Hughey, in her high school days; Mrs. William W. Westerfield, of New Orleans, La.; and Mrs. Michael S. Creamer of Los Angeles, Cal., who are always stimulating acquisitions to social circles and have never ceased to be missed from those of their home town. Also with the receiving line was Mrs. Westerfield's lovely little daughter Elizabeth, who presented the tally cards.

It was an exceptionally pretty party. The large hall suggested a conservatory in its wealth of bloom, the flowers of early fall filling jardinières and vases in artistic arrangement, their note of vivid color supplemented by magnificent ferns. There were also many charming costumes in evidence, those of the early autumn season in effective contrast with light summer toilettes.

A hundred matrons and buds were at play in the Bridge game while others not caring to play, enjoyed Grafton music and visiting.

Mrs. James Ford won a beautiful corsage bouquet of white roses as the trophy of the game and similar bouquets of Kilarney roses were presented by the hostesses to the honor guests.

The delicious collation served was characterized by dainty appointments; the favors, pink fall roses.

A coterie of attractive young girls assisted in the hospitalities: Misses Jean Howat, Helen Harper, Marie Lanum, Edna Fenner, Lillian Davis, Elizabeth Westerfield and Dorothy Smith of Bainbridge.

Among the guests were Mrs. W. J. Galvin of Jamestown; Mrs. J. Star Smith and daughter Miss Dorothy, of Bainbridge, and Miss Anna Louise Ustick of Cincinnati.

Miss Alice Parrett delightfully entertained the "Seven Brothers and Seven Sisters" club Friday evening in honor of Malcolm Ross, who leaves next week for his new home in Ironton.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in baskets and bowls of asters and heliotrope and a pink and white color scheme was prettily employed in the tempting luncheon served.

Eighteen girls and boys spent a merry evening, Tom Rogers winning the prize in a guessing contest.

The bright young hostess was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Parrett, and Mrs. James Flynn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drais and daughter Miss Emma entertained with an elaborate family dinner at their home east of town, in honor of two nephews, Willard Bitzer and Roy Baughn, who leave Tuesday for Columbus to enter the Ohio State University.

Young Bitzer takes the law course and young Baughn the agricultural course.

COBURN'S CO. COMING

Manager Coburn and his Big Minstrel company are too well known to require more than the announcement of date in Washington, and the display of the well known title on the bill boards to insure interest and expectancy. Speculation is made as to what new features and innovations are possible from the many years of enjoyable performances already credited to "Cobe" and his men.

How many stop to think what a tremendous effort is required to accomplish this result by this fun factory producer and the performers under him? An all new show every season and something different in minstrelsy. That it will be new, that it will be different, full of merit, clean comedy and enjoyable fun we do know. It always is. They never disappoint friends and patrons. It is one of the attractions who keep faith with the public. That is why we look for them, why we patronize them, and why they will have their usual capacity business next Wednesday, September 22, at the Empire.

BANKERS AGREE UPON BIG LOAN

Will Accept Faith of England and France.

WAR MUNITIONS ARE EXCLUDED

Proceeds Can Be Used Only For Purchase of Normal Exports and For Maintenance of Foreign Exchange at Par—American Financiers Place Themselves in Class With the Patriots of the Nation.

New York, Sept. 18.—Conferences between the members of the Anglo-French mission and American financiers over the foreign exchange situation have progressed so satisfactorily that the essential arrangements for a British loan in the United States practically have been completed. Fundamental principles have been agreed upon and only minor differences remain to be settled. The fundamentals already agreed upon between the parties, which means the six members of the mission and practically every banking interest of the United States, are these:

The bankers of the United States will float a joint British-French loan on the joint and several bonds of the two nations. The bonds are to return 5 per cent to the investor, to run for a period of between five and ten years. They are to be payable in New York in American dollars, 100 cents on the dollar. They are to be free from all income and other taxes, and exterior loans have priority over all domestic loans of both countries and are to have no other security than the credit of the great nations, neither or which has ever repudiated a debt nor defaulted in interest except in the case of France, which at the close of the reign of Louis XVI, was financially insolvent. The points remaining to be settled are the amount of the loan, which is not so serious as it might seem, the exact method of placing the bonds upon the market, the payment of the expenses of handling the enormous transaction and the distribution of the proceeds in the United States.

It was freely asserted in Wall street that it has been decided that the bonds will be handled by a subscription syndicate rather than an underwriting syndicate, and that the bankers of the United States are not demanding a commission, which would be a huge sum, even at a fraction per cent, for their labors. They are showing a disposition to consider their work as a patriotic duty in order that the producers of the country may benefit by a great market for their surplus merchandise of all kinds.

There was talk that the price at which the syndicate would take the bonds would cost the two countries 5½ per cent. This was promptly denied by friends of the mission.

The difference as to the amount of the negotiations hangs the question whether any part of the loan shall be expended for munitions of war in the United States. If it were agreed that instead of the gold they are paying now they might devote part of the bond proceeds for this purpose, the billion dollars originally asked for would not be too much and would not last them a year. If the proceeds are to be used for paying for normal exports and for maintaining foreign exchange at par they can do on less.

There is no doubt that the mission in its first meetings with the Americans asked for the full sum, which was to be used for all purposes. There is no doubt also that they came very quickly to understand that in order to popularize the transaction and prevent any formidable objections, munitions must be excluded. Thereafter the negotiations, according to Wall street understanding, went on the familiar plane of "what will you give and what is the lowest you will take."

Rome, Sept. 18.—The pope has obtained assurances from the British and French governments that they will guarantee the safety of the holy places in Palestine in the eventuality of an Anglo-French occupation of neighboring Turkish territory. H. M. DAUGHERTY

Columbus Attorney Seeks Republican Senatorial Nomination.

DAUGHERTY IS OUT FOR U. S. SENATOR

Republican Admits Desire to Sojourn in Washington.

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Harry M. Daugherty has entered the lists for the Republican senatorial nomination, the announcement coming from Mr. Daugherty himself in the following statement:

"Having thoroughly considered the question and carefully and systematically canvassed the situation throughout the state for two months, I can now positively say that when the time comes I will enter the canvass for the nomination for United States senator, and from that time until the election make a consistent effort in keeping with the dignity of that high office.

"For twenty-five years I have given the best service there was in me to the Republican party, as a matter of political patriotism and loyalty to its principles. I have been glad to support every Republican who has been a candidate during that time. I now feel that if I am considered qualified to represent the people of the state of Ohio in the highest legislative body in the world, I have at least earned the privilege of being a candidate and I shall cheerfully submit my candidacy to the judgment of the Republican voters of the state at the primaries at which the nomination is made.

"I will enter no combination and will not participate in any slate-making. I will not interfere with the campaign of any man for any other office, unless an attempt should be made to interfere with me. I do not know who the other candidates may be. They will be, no doubt, worthy men, and I trust the contest between us will be a dignified one and in no sense a personal one. I will fully appreciate all the support that may be given me."

The announcement by Mr. Daugherty of his candidacy for United States Senator is of particular interest locally. Mr. Daugherty was born and raised in this city, his mother, Mrs. Jane Daugherty, and his brother, M. S. Daugherty, cashier of The Midland National Bank, one of Washington's prominent men of affairs, live here.

While Mr. Daugherty has resided in Columbus for a number of years past, engaged in the practice of his profession, he still regards Washington as "home." His loyalty to and affection for the place of his birth, the place where he passed his boyhood days, attended school, grew to manhood and entered upon the practice of his profession in which he was destined to attain such prominence, has always remained unshaken. Mr. Daugherty has hosts of personal friends in Washington and Fayette county in all political parties, who have always been interested in his success and who will assist him in his canvass because, if for no other reason, they are anxious to have "Harry" win out.

Mr. Daugherty is the first Fayette county man who ever aspired to such high honors in the political world.

KING GEORGE MAGNANIMOUS

London, Sept. 18.—At a big dinner held at Windsor castle, at which Sir Arthur Nicholson, permanent under-secretary of the foreign office; Lord Revelstoke and a number of American women, including the Countess of Cranford and the Duchess of Rosburghe, were present, King George proposed the health of President Wilson. In the course of a short speech the king said:

"It will, I think, be an everlasting testimony to the wisdom and go-sense of the American people that most trying and difficult circumstances, well nigh impossible to conceive, they stood loyally united behind President Wilson. Mr. Wilson's action throughout the period of difficulty has justified the faith and confidence of the American people."

This is the first occasion on which the health of the president of the United States has been proposed at the English royal table by the sovereign.

FUSES IN CARGO

Washington, Sept. 18.—In announcing to the state department the arrival at the Azores of the Fabre liner Saint Anna, from New York for Italy, American Consul Schultz stated that eighteen fuses had been found on the ship and that many explosions had occurred before she reached the Azores, with a serious fire in her hold.

RUSTY NAIL ENDS LIFE OF PROMINENT CITIZEN

Mr. W. S. Glaze, more familiarly known as "Squire" Glaze, aged 70 years, for years one of Jeffersonville's most prominent citizens, died at his home in that town Friday evening about 7:30, death being the result of a rusty nail penetrating his foot some two weeks ago and the wound developing blood poisoning.

Mr. Glaze has been almost a lifelong resident of Fayette county, and for many years has lived in Jeffersonville. For several years he was justice of the peace and the title of "Squire" had since remained with him. He was a veteran of the civil war.

Some two weeks ago, while breaking some boards, a rusty nail penetrated one foot. He gave the wound tigers, leopards, polar bears and other wild beasts broken to perform marvelous feats.

During the engagement, which is for a single day, performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors will be opened an hour earlier. The parade is at 10 o'clock in the morning.

BARN BURNS AND HOME IS THREATENED

The large barn of Oliver Bangham, on the Jamestown pike, was struck by lightning Saturday afternoon, and burned to the ground.

Some 400 bushels of wheat, some corn, a large quantity of hay and straw and harness burned with the barn.

At press time the flames were being carried toward the residence, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnes, and grave fears were entertained for the building.

Mrs. Barnes was knocked down by the bolt of lightning and suffered a severe nervous shock.

ADMITS FRAUDS

By Associated Press

Indianapolis, September 18.—Ernest Roeder, who recently pleaded guilty to the election conspiracy indictment on which Mayor Bell is being tried, told of his activities on election day at today's session of the court.

The witness, who was election clerk at the primary, admitted that he gave so-called state candidates votes without counting the ballots; that he bought votes and voted persons illegally at the election.

He said that on election day he bought a number of votes with the money given him by "Bud" Gibson.

"I tried to buy votes for $1 but sometimes had to pay $2," he said.

GERMANY WILL GIVE ATTENTION TO ALL THE FACTS

Berlin, September 18.—The German government will give its careful consideration to the evidence concerning circumstances which attended the sinking of the Arabic, submitted by the American government through Ambassador Gerard.

Foreign Minister von Jagow made a statement to this effect, in an interview last night with the Associated Press.

The Foreign Minister expressed complete confidence that, in view of the instructions which had been given and the precautions now being taken, the possibility of further incidents in connection with the submarine campaign, which would disturb the relations between the two countries, has been virtually eliminated.

SCHOOLS WILL BE DISMISSED FOR CIRCUS

The public schools will be dismissed in time Monday morning for the pupils to witness the big parade and no school will be held in the afternoon, in order that all may have an opportunity to attend the show.

In this manner every youngster in town can have an opportunity to enjoy to the utmost the wonders of the big circus.

er, Halleck, Rosecrans, Fremont, Keay and a host of others belonged, like Grant and Sherman, to the "trained citizenry" of that day. Moreover there were regiments of actual volunteers which were better units at the end of three months than some of the trained militia. They were of good material and had a sprinkling of trained men to get them into shape. The prospective plowboy volunteer can as well be fore-trained for the army as the prospective captain and colonel, and every voter of military age is vitally interested in what is taking place now toward preparedness of troops. If a crisis comes a volunteer army may fall down, it is true, and if so militarists will blame the people. But patriotism stands enough to volunteer for war is also stanch enough to go voluntarily through the preparatory mill if given the chance.

Our Railroad Mileage.

More than 37 per cent of the world's total of railroad tracks is in the United States, the aggregate being over 68,600 miles, of which this country has about 254,700 miles, these figures being up to the end of the year 1913. As last year's construction in the United States was only about 1,500 miles, the total here is now approximately 256,000 miles, this including 650 miles of line in Alaska.

Newspaper Advertising

Goes direct to the people and the people constitute the buying public. Newspaper advertising not only talks but it emphasizes; it has the undivided attention of the reader and covers a field no salesman can hope to reach. There are many styles in newspaper advertising and the small announcement, which costs only five cents, is just as effective in its way as the larger one, which costs proportionately more. The benefits to be derived can not be measured by the size of the ad, for the very good reason that the small, inexpensive announcement invariably proves effective. Newspaper advertising costs from five cents up to any price the advertiser desires to pay.
